

WINDSOR MAN WAS KILLED INSTANTLY

W. H. Case, Guard in State Prison, Victim of Automobile Accident.

CAR LEFT THE ROAD AND STRUCK A TREE

W. B. Tuxbury and A. Fullerton Phillips, Also of Windsor, Escaped with Minor Injuries — Road Near Ascut-neyville Under Repair.

WINDSOR, Oct. 3.—Between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening a big automobile owned and driven by W. B. Tuxbury of this place, in which A. Fullerton Phillips and W. H. Case, also of this place, were the other occupants, left the road four miles from the town, near Ascutneyville, and collided with a nearby tree with such force that all three men were thrown from the car.

Mr. Case was killed almost instantly. The other two men escaped with minor injuries. Mr. Phillips having a few bruises and a cut artery, which will not, however, prove serious, while Mr. Tuxbury's injuries are confined to bruises alone. The car was but slightly damaged and was driven into Windsor on its own power.

At the time the accident occurred, the men were returning from Lake Sennece, where they had been in camp several days. They were proceeding at a fair rate of speed when they suddenly came upon a bad piece of road where extensive repairs were being made. Both Mr. Tuxbury and Mr. Phillips have been too dazed since the accident to give a comprehensive and exact account of how it occurred, but it is believed by those who visited the scene and looked over the ground that the car must have slipped on the bad road, at which time Mr. Tuxbury was unable to control it, and the collision with the tree resulted. The car did not overturn.

Just how Mr. Case met his death was not learned, although he is said to have been terribly bruised all over his body. The body was brought to Windsor as soon as help could be summoned.

Mr. Case was a man well along in years and had been for the last 25 years the night guard at the Vermont state prison in Windsor.

PRINCE OF PILSEN GETS WARM PRAISE

Company that is to play here Saturday of this week opened season in Portland, Me., auspiciously.

The Prince of Pilsen, a great musical comedy favorite, will be presented at matinee and evening performances in the Auditorium Saturday of this week in an entirely new dress and with the same company that will play in Springfield, Worcester, Hartford, New Haven and other cities. This company played in Portland, Me., Sept. 18. Next day the Portland Daily Express said:

"Portland saw its first road show in something like five months, last night, when the ever popular musical comedy, The Prince of Pilsen, was presented at the Jefferson theatre. That the theatrical patrons of the city are hungry for that sort of thing was made evident by the large house that greeted an excellent presentation of this, one of the funniest and most tuneful musical plays that was ever written. The women principals are all exceedingly pretty girls, and each sings well. Miss Estella Birney plays the part of Mrs. Crocker, the widow from New York, in a most satisfactory manner, and is a good actress as well as a good singer. The costumes are all new, rich and pretty, and the staging is elaborate. The company certainly furnished a most enjoyable evening's entertainment."

The Daily Eastern Argus said of the

ARCHITECTS' DRAWING OF NEW MANLEY BUILDING

Proposed Garage and Apartment Structure on North Side of High Street Hill.

same performance: "The company assembled for this revival is carefully selected both in its efficient principals and its well-balanced chorus. In the girls' shapeliness has not been overlooked, and bright faces, smiling lips and starry eyes have been standardized in this production. The comedy is full of incident from start to finish, and the accompanying music is lively and stirring. This with the love making and fun going on gives the whole opera continuous interest. Laughter and applause rang through the house the entire evening, and the event was a most auspicious opening of the regular season of high class road attractions."

WOMEN LISTEN TO REASON

You who suffer, why do you hesitate to try what has removed the sufferings of others? That good old fashioned remedy, made from roots and herbs—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—has stood the test. It has no rival in overcoming the ailments peculiar to your sex. Why should it not do for you what it has done for others? Give it a chance.

The Reformer presents herewith a drawing by Architects C. T. McFarland and Herbert W. Colby of 46 Cornhill street, Boston, showing approximately how the garage and apartment building which they are erecting for John Manley on High Street will appear when completed.

The picture shows the south side of the building, facing the north side of High Street hill, and the east end, toward Main street.

A description of this building was given in an earlier issue of this paper. The lower floors will be used for garage purposes and the upper floors for apartments, all finished in first-class shape.

The foundation of the building is now being put in.

MASSACHUSETTS NOTES.

Shelburne Falls Man Run Down by a Train.

Edward C. Comstock, 77, died Saturday in Shelburne Falls, after being struck by an east bound freight train while crossing the track near the Pratt drop forge shop. It is thought that he did not hear the coming train, as his hearing was impaired. He was taken to his home but died on the way. Mr. Comstock was born in Shelburne Falls and had lived there all his life. For over 50 years he had been a carpenter and builder. Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Catherine B. Comstock, and a son, Preston, of Elgin, Ill.

One million people are threatened with starvation and several hundred thousand have been rendered homeless as the result of floods which are raging along the Hwai river in China. President Li Yuan Hung has personally contributed $100,000 for relief and the government will doubtless make an effort to appropriate money for the same purpose. Chinese papers say there will be an appalling death list from starvation if the American Red Cross does not come again to the relief.

Shafts sunk into a coal field in Germany, which had been burning several years, revealed 18 veins of blazing coal.

The man who sits down and waits for something to turn up will succeed in time. His toes will turn up.
